Dear President Obama,

Thank you for helping my neighbors with their mortgage payments. You know the one's down the street who in the good times purchased their house for no money down, refinanced it several times, then bought SUV's, ATV's, RV's, a pool, a big screen plasma TV, two Wave Runners, a boat, and a Harley. I was wondering, since I am paying my mortgage and theirs, could you arrange for me to borrow the Harley now and then?

Signed:

"Concerned in TX"

P. S. They also need help with their credit cards, when do you want me to start making those payments?

P. P. S. I almost forgot - they didn't file their income tax return this year. Should I go ahead and file for them or will you be appointing them to cabinet posts?

Subject: SENIOR DEATH WARRANTS

The president said in one of his addresses recently, that with this plan, grandma needs to take a pain pill, and not get the needed surgery. That is scary, I may be over 50, but I am not ready for the home, and a productive worker. How about you?

Barb

Several years ago, my dear friend Geoff Fairclough, at Brit living in Leyland, England, had an ear ache. the doctor determined that it was a boil in the ear. After a week of awful pain the doctor agreed to lance the boil. Geoff, 77 years old never woke from the "elective surgery". The boil ruptured, poisoning his entire system. Had he been 20 and a "productive worker" antibiotics and an aggressive treatment course would have been persued. But at 77 the "cost out weight the benefit"....TO THE STATE RUN MEDICAL SYSTEM....but not to me, his wife, his two children or 6 grandchildren!! I just received this bit of info and had to forward it....

SENIOR DEATH WARRANTS:

The actress Natasha Richardson died after falling skiing in Canada . It took eight hours to drive her to a hospital. If Canada had our healthcare she might be alive today. In the United States, we have medical evacuation helicopters that would have gotten her to the hospital in 30 minutes.

In England anyone over 59 cannot receive heart repairs or stents or bypass because it is not covered as being too expensive and not needed.

Obama wants to have a healthcare system just like Canada 's and England 's.

I got this today and am sending it on. If Obama's plans in other areas don't scare you, this should!

Please do not let Obama sign senior death warrants!!

Everybody that is on this mailing list is either a senior citizen, is getting close or knows somebody that is.

Most of you know by now that the Senate version (at least) of the "stimulus" Bill includes provisions for extensive rationing of health care for senior citizens.

The author of this part of the bill, former senator and tax evader, Tom Daschle was credited today by Bloomberg with the following statement:

Bloomberg: Daschle says "health-care reform will not be pain free. Seniors should be more accepting of the conditions that come with age instead of treating them."

If this does not sufficiently raise your ire, just remember that our esteemed Senators and Congressmen have their own healthcare plan that is first dollar or very low co-pay which they are guaranteed the remainder of their lives and are not subject to this new law if it passes.

Please use the power of the Internet to get this message out. Talk it up at the grassroots level.

We have an election coming up in one year and nine months, and we have the ability to address and reverse the dangerous direction the Obama administration and it allies have begun and in the interim, we can make their lives miserable. Lets do this!

If you disagree, do nothing.

Dear Jan

I was happy to receive a message from you. Any thought of you always gives me a good feeling.

I was also interested in the article that you sent. I wasn't interested because of the nature of the medical situation but because I've been writing about it for so long while being ignored. As Flo Capp said in the comic strip so many years ago, there's nothing worse than being right with nobody listening.

Regarding the medical situation, I've been thinking about it and occasionally writing about it for many years. I think that you might not like my views. Many people don't. However, my views are based on the grim reality of supply and demand, which principle applies to medical things just as certainly as it applies to everything else. Here's a link to an article that I published on the subject back in July of 1998. The title of the article is Trapped by the Safety Net. The article has proven to be prophetic in that things have happened exactly as I described in the article, over 10 year ago.

<http://frontiersman.my3website.net/1998/1998-07/1998-07.html#Trapped by the Safety Net>

Here's another link to another article. I published this one way back in January of 1995. It addresses a more limited aspect of the medical situation. That aspect is the unquestioned assumption that every medical treatment provided should always be the best possible treatment instead of being merely an adequate treatment. In the article, I referred to the practice as "High Tech Overkill". I believe that it's a very stupid way to run a medical industry but it is an unavoidable consequence the situation that I described in Trapped by the Safety Net. In fact, there isn't any reason why a treatment should be state-of-the-art when a less sophisticated treatment will suffice. Anyway, here's the link. The name of the article is Blind Progress.

<http://frontiersman.my3website.net/1995/1995-01/1995-01.html#Blind Progress>

You may feel free to forward this message to anybody who might be interested in it.

Love,
Sam

The 'Middle Wife' by an Anonymous 2nd grade teacher

I've been teaching now for about fifteen years. I have two kids myself, but the best birth story I know is the one I saw in my own second grade classroom a few years back.

When I was a kid, I loved show-and-tell.

So I always have a few sessions with my students. It helps them get over shyness and usually, show-and-tell is pretty tame. Kids bring in pet turtles, model airplanes, pictures of fish they catch, stuff like that. And I never, ever place any boundaries or limitations on them. If they want to lug it in to school and talk about it, they're welcome.

Well, one day this little girl, Erica, a very bright, very outgoing kid, takes her turn and waddles up to the front of the class with a pillow stuffed under her sweater.

She holds up a snapshot of an infant. 'This is Luke, my baby brother, and I'm going to tell you about his birthday.'

'First, Mom and Dad made him as a symbol of their love, and then Dad put a seed in my Mom's stomach, and Luke grew in there. He ate for nine months through an umbrella cord.'

She's standing there with her hands on the pillow, and I'm trying not to laugh and wishing I had my camcorder with me. The kids are watching her in amazement.

'Then, about two Saturdays ago, my M om starts saying and going, 'Oh, Oh, Oh, Oh!' Erica puts a hand behind her back and groans. 'She walked around the house for, like an hour, 'Oh, oh, oh!' (Now this kid is doing a hysterical duck walk and groaning.)

' My Dad called the middle wife. She delivers babies, but she doesn't have a sign on the car like the Domino's man. They got my Mom to lie down in bed like this.' (Then Erica lies down with her back against the wall.)

'And then, pop! My Mom had this bag of water she kept in there in case he got thirsty, and it just blew up and spilled all over the bed, like psshheew!' (This kid has her legs spread with her little hands miming water flowing away. It was too much!)

'Then the middle wife starts saying 'push, push,' and 'breathe, breathe. They started counting, but never even got past ten. Then, all of a sudden, out comes my brother. He was covered in yucky stuff that they all said it was from Mom's play-center, (placenta) so there must be a lot of toys inside there. When he got out, the middle wife spanked him for crawling up in there.'

Then Erica stood up, took a big theatrical bow and returned to her seat. I'm sure I applauded the loudest. Ever since then, when it's show-and-tell day, I bring my camcorder, just in case another ' Middle Wife' comes along.

Now you have two choices...laugh and close this page or pass this along to someone else to spread the laughs. I know what I did!!!

Live every day as if it is your LAST chance to make someone happy!

THE Birth Certificate - FINALLY!

NOW IT'S OFFICIAL!

After spending $950,000 on attorneys to fend off releasing ANYTHING to prove he is a citizen of USA, Obama recently released his Hawaii birth certificate, and I hope, once and for all the matter will be dropped and I will not have five or six emails each day from all you ultra-right-wingers with a different conspiracy angle....

He was elected as our president and we need to get over the fact we lost.....

SO please stop stirring up things and trying to discredit him with all these stupid and groundless rumors....

Attached is a copy of his birth certificate and I hope this will put the matter to rest once and for all!

Scroll down for the birth certificate

Dear Jan

I like to hear from you but mostly I like to know how you're doing or if you just want to chat a little. For the most part, I don't really need forwarded funny stuff unless you think that it might be of particular interest to me. I already get a lot of that kind of email. So, send me forwarded funny stuff or political stuff if you think that it will be of interest to me but don't send everything that you get. That stuff circulates around the internet so massively that I'll probably get the same thing from somebody else anyway.

Anyway, how are you doing? Have you recovered from the hurricanes? I saw an advertisement on the TV, History Channel I think, for a conspiracy theorist who believes that the hurricane was an instance of a government (ours? another one?) using weather control technology to intentionally cause damage. I didn't get around to watching the documentary but I am suspicious about weather control technology. I've run across hints about it in other things that I've read. What do you think?

Love,
Sam

What's wrong with you? If you want someone to chat with you, you might want to consider not chewing them out first. I thought the email was funny, so I sent it to everyone on my list, which you are fixing to be deleted from. I am surprised that I didn't delete you when you embarrassed me "replying to all" the last time I made that mistake. You either don't like me "at all" or you have the poorest social skills of anyone I have EVER known. Now,.... how did that make YOU feel? Yea, me too!

Dear Jan

I thought that I just told you my opinion. I don't think that it was offensive. It was just my opinion that I don't want a lot of forwarded email messages. I already get a lot of that and I don't need more of it. I'd like to hear from you about you and what you and the family are doing. That's all that I told you in my message.

I'm not sure but I think that I recall you objecting to me using the "reply to all" feature, some time ago. My suggestion at the time was to put your list of recipients in the Bcc list instead of the Cc list. Actually, I don't remember for sure but I think that's what I suggested. Anyway, that solves the problem of people on the list sending replies to everybody on the list.

I don't mind being deleted from your mailing list. Just keep my email address in your software's address book. You can send messages to me whenever you are so inclined. Let me know how things are going.

Love,
Sam
